TRANSITION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Supporting Service Member Career Readiness

TAP as a Pathway to Higher Education

Nick Anderson
DOD TAP Administrator
Military Transition Counselor

THE TRANSITION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Every year, approximately 200,000 men and women leave U.S. military service and return to life as civilians, a process known as the military to civilian transition.

The Transition Assistance Program (TAP) provides information, tools and training to ensure service members and their spouses are prepared for the next step in civilian life.

Military to civilian transition occurs within a complex and dynamic network of relationships, programs, services, and benefits, which includes transition planning and assistance efforts by individual Service branches, the interagency TAP partnership, and community resources delivered through local government, private industry, and nonprofit organizations.

TAP INTERAGENCY PARTNERSHIP

In addition to the Military Departments, TAP is the result of an interagency partnership between the:

Department of Defense, Department of Labor, Department of Education, Department of Veterans Affairs, Department of Homeland Security, in conjunction with the Small Business Administration and the Office of Personnel Management.
